MEMORANDUM FOR: Chairman, NSC Interagency Task Force
on the Law of the Sea
Office of the Deputy Secretary
Department of State

SUBJECT : Arrangements for 14 November Speech

1. Arrangements for your presentation on the Current Status and Prospects of the Law of the Sea Negotiations are now firm. I have reserved the Auditorium, and I estimate the audience will be from 200 to 300.

2. If you could arrive at the Main Entrance shortly after Noon on Thursday, 14 November, I will meet you there, sign you in, and escort you to Mr. Colby's office. He cannot join us for lunch, but he would like to visit with you briefly beginning at 12:15. At 12:30, we'll have lunch in the Executive Dining Room. I have reserved a table for eight and have assumed that you would like to bring someone with you. Mr. Proctor, the Deputy Director for Intelligence, and Mr. Walsh, the Associate Deputy Director for Intelligence, plan to join us.

3. You are scheduled to begin your address at 1:45 in the Auditorium and to conclude about 3:00 p.m. The usual procedure is 45 or 50 minutes of presentation and a brief question period. Actually, I find a question period in an Auditorium situation quite unsatisfactory, but I leave this option to you.

4. Thank you for making yourself available. As you know, there is considerable interest in LOS matters at all levels of the Agency.
